

REAL. TEXAS. SERVICE. CHAMPION

Officer Dennis Arnold, Police Department

Police Officer Dennis Arnold has been with the Mesquite Police Department since 1994. He currently serves as instructor of the department's Basic Peace Officer Course, also known as BPOC. He is responsible for ensuring police recruits obtain the knowledge and training required to represent the department with utmost integrity.

Officer Arnold assisted with the creation of BPOC and continues to look for ways to improve the course, which has graduated 65 recruits to date. He is greatly respected by his peers and acts as a mentor to recruits, setting the example of an effective police officer and leader. He understands the seriousness of this responsibility, often saying, "If a recruit fails, I fail. If a recruit succeeds, then I'm doing my job."

Thank you, Officer Arnold, for providing the Mesquite community with Real. Texas. Service.
