

This is an outline of the design from the ceiling of the S. D. Lawrence home. We don't know who designed it, but we think it was painted during the 1880s. Conservators discovered the painted design during restorations of the home, after it became a museum, when wallpaper was removed in the music room/formal parlor.

What shapes and themes do you see?

What colors would you choose?

This is the original:

